

Replacing artwork in Prinerger Workflow

If you use the Pandora software integrated with Prinerger Workflow, you may want to swap out existing artwork with no change to the existing step-and-repeat layout. This can happen when:

- A designer updated the artwork to include new information or correct mistakes.
- You use the step-and-repeat layout as a template for similar size labels with different content—for example, replacing strawberry jam with blueberry jam.
- Your customer requires a different ratio of labels—for example, a layout that was used to produce 5000 strawberry and 5000 blueberry jam labels will now be used to create a run of 7500 strawberry and 2500 blueberry jam labels.

Figure 1. Swapping artwork in an existing step-and-repeat layout in Prinerger Workflow

