

Wrapped step-and-repeat layouts

When you create staggered layouts for a cylindrical imaging area, the height of the layout is frequently larger than the circumference of the cylinder. When representing the cylinder on a flat plane in the layout, Pandora must "wrap" the layout by copying parts of artwork that hang off the top of the substrate and adding them to the bottom of the substrate.