

Creating a wrapped step-and-repeat layout of one artwork

You may want to print a very long single artwork—for example, wallpaper or linoleum flooring.

While you do not need to wrap these types of jobs, you may want to move the seam of the artwork away from the edges to make it easier to detect a noticeable artifact in the repeat length during proofing.

Figure 1. Wrapping patterned artwork

