

Selecting objects in the layout view

Before you can move, copy, step-and-repeat, or delete an object (artwork, die, or mark) in the layout view, you must select it. When you select a complete die, an artwork, or marks, black selection handles appear at the corners. When you select a die station, white selection handles appear at its corners. You can move items that have black selection handles. You cannot move items that have white handles.
